Mercy is Love: A Letter to the World Youth Day Pilgrims

This summer, we will be sending a delegation of twelve teenagers and three chaperones to Poland for World Youth Day with Pope Francis. World Youth Day (WYD) began in 1983 with the invitation from St. John Paul II to the global youth to feel the Church's love for them. Occurring every 2 to 3 years, WYD has become a sign of Christ's love for humanity and presence with us today. At its core, WYD is an encounter with God in communion with the global church.

Earlier this year, we read about how two teens in the Ignite ministry found community within our larger parish. Now, we are sending out twelve pilgrims. Some of them have actively been involved with Ignite, others have come our way through word of mouth.

This is my open letter to our pilgrims.

Dear Pilgrim,

In one month's time, we will begin our pilgrimage. It is, in many ways, a journey that began when you first said "yes" to this invitation. Your reasons for signing up for World Youth Day undoubtedly vary. For some of you, it's a chance to go to Poland; for others, it's to celebrate Mass with Pope Francis. Maybe you just want to make new friends or maybe you're on a journey of self-discovery. Whatever the reason may be, the Holy Spirit has brought us together on this pilgrimage.

For two weeks, you are leaving behind the comforts of home—a cozy bed, your own bathroom. For two weeks, you will rely on the generosity of strangers who will quickly become your friends. Early into our pilgrimage, you will learn what you can live without. I hope that you embrace the joy and peace that comes with intentional simple living. As we continue on our pilgrimage, you will learn that there are ways to communicate and understand others that go beyond language barriers. The Holy Spirit will be there in your conversations. It will be awkward at first, but keep trying.

Blessed are the merciful for they shall obtain mercy (Mt 5:7). This is the theme we've explored all year and the theme that we will continue to explore at World Youth Day. I am truly grateful for the opportunity to walk with you here, to see you come together as a community in faith, openness, and respect. At the beginning of the year, I asked you to define mercy and all of our definitions boiled down to love. Mercy is love.

My hope for you this World Youth Day is that you may feel God's mercy, that is to say, God's love. God is present in the big moments like the Papal Mass. God is also present in the small moments like conversations with a new friend, the hospitality of our host families, a quiet moment to yourself as we walk. At times, it may feel overwhelming. When that happens, just pause, take a few deep breaths, let it wash over you, and rest in gratitude.

You are one of the twelve being sent out. While you are walking this pilgrimage, you are not alone. Aside from your backpack, you will carry with you our community. You will bring with you the love, generosity, creativity, and prayers that our parish offers you, which you've grown up in. Use their love, prayers, and energy to fuel you. On this journey, you will get tired. You will be in a foreign place, sleeping on foreign floors, eating foreign foods, and hearing foreign sounds. You will be uncomfortable and that is okay. Lean on each other, rest in the Lord.

We cannot imagine what God has in store for you on this pilgrimage but a flame has been lit within you. You are brave and trusting to have said "yes" to this invitation. You are taking a step in faith. I am excited for what is in store and I am honored to take this walk with you. In the words of St. Ignatius, "go forth and set the world on fire."

In Faith,

Teresa Marie Cariño
Pastoral Associate

This month, the World Youth Day Pilgrims will be accepting prayer intentions to take with them to Poland and donations to help fund the cost of the trip. Any amount is greatly appreciated.

This process, which is called the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults, is also open to those Catholic adults who have not received the Sacraments of First Communion or Confirmation.

New York Archdiocese

Parish Mission and Evangelization Program

The Archdiocese of New York is currently planning to launch a Parish Mission and Evangelization Program in which parishioners of all parishes of the Archdiocese will be invited to attend a three-evening event in their area and asked to bring a family member or friend who is a non-practicing Catholic.

In preparation for this initiative, the Archdiocese will conduct focus groups with parishioners from more than two-dozen parishes, seeking to gauge what inspires less active Catholics to become more involved in their faith and what keeps active Catholics engaged.

The Church of St. Ignatius Loyola has been selected as one of the parishes from which focus group volunteers will be recruited. As a result, parishioners should be aware that they might receive calls from a screening company seeking their participation in this process.
