LAY MINISTERS' ENRICHMENT AT ST. IGNATIUS

A time to pray together, learn together, get to know other lay ministers, and deepen the faith of the St. Ignatius community

What is this program?

Lay Ministers' Enrichment is a program designed by parish staff and lay ministers in response to lay ministers' requests for additional opportunities to explore their ministries and their identities as ministers.

The program has two primary objectives:

- (1) Expanding lay ministers' understanding of the theological foundations of ministry
- (2) Integrating the call to discipleship in order to broaden and strengthen the St. Ignatius faith community

What is the program format?

Outstanding presenters from the staff of St. Ignatius Loyola and other religious and academic institutions lead each Saturday program.

The day begins with a continental breakfast at 9:30 AM in Wallace Hall. Morning and afternoon sessions focus on the spirituality of the day's topic and on presentations prepared for program participants. Sessions generally include time for private prayer, small-group discussions, and question-and-answer exchanges with program presenters.

Lunch is served between the morning and afternoon sessions. The program ends, usually with Mass, at about 3:00 PM.

Participants may join the program cycle at any time—that is, you do not need to complete previous programs before participating in a current program.

All lay ministers at St. Ignatius are invited to participate in the Lay Ministers' Enrichment program. If you have any questions, please contact the leader or coordinator of your ministry.

Save the Date: The spring Lay Ministers' Enrichment program will be held on Saturday, April 28, 2012.
